Paul Martin's American Bistro to Feature New Kelly Fleming Wines

(Sacramento, CA) - Paul Martin's American Bistro in Roseville is as serious about their wine, as they are about the fresh ingredients used to make their seasonally-focused menu items. To that end, the restaurant hosted a release party to celebrate the latest additions to their California-centric wine list, Kelly Fleming Wines' 2005 Cabernet Sauvignon and 2007 Sauvignon Blanc.

"Kelly Fleming Wines exemplify the characteristics we look for in our purveyor partners; sustainable farming techniques, a dedication to quality organic ingredients and a commitment to the local area," commented Brian Bennett, co-founder and managing partner of Paul Martin's. Kelly Fleming Wines, located in the Napa Valley region, uses progressive farming practices and traditional winemaking techniques to produce highly regarded wines. The new vintages released at Paul Martin's include:

Kelly Fleming 2005 Cabernet Sauvignon

This 100 percent Cabernet Sauvignon was produced entirely from the estate vineyard and aged in 90 percent new French Oak barrels. This rich, lush wine exhibits dark cherry and spiced plum aromas, and a juicy raspberry/plum finish.

Kelly Fleming 2007 Sauvignon Blanc

Comprised of 94 percent Sauvignon Blanc and 6 percent Viogner, this vintage was produced primarily from the Musque clone. The grapes were whole clustered press, settled briefly, and then placed in small French Oaks barrels and stainless steel drums for fermentation. The texture is light and crisp, but has the suppleness and silkiness expected from sur-lie barrel age.

Paul Martin's American Bistro is one of only two restaurants in the greater Sacramento area to serve Kelly Fleming Wines. "We are thrilled to be able to offer these exceptional wines to our friends and guests at Paul Martin's American Bistro," said Bennett. "They were a 'must have' addition to our wine list," he added.
